Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Heidorn et al. (Patent # 5,966,686).

Regarding claims 1, 5, 6, 8-10, Heidorn et al. teaches the claimed invention of a method for analyzing text in a natural language (See abstract, lines 1-2) comprising:

Constructing a hierarchical tree representing a text in a natural language; (See col. 2, lines 11-13) and Applying a reduce rule to the hierarchical tree, the rule applicable only to an instance of a pre-determined sub-hierarchy of the hierarchical tree (See col. 3, lines 49-col. 4, lines 18, wherein Heidorn et al. teaches applying rule to leaf nodes only or to pairs of leaf nodes only, which is equivalent to claimed instance of a predetermined sub-hierarchy).

It is inherent that the data is associated with each node. Applying the rule in specified context is described in col. 2, lines 10-21. Also see col. 3, lines 49-col. 4, lines 18, wherein the rules are applied from root node or from intermediate node. This is equivalent to claimed context the broadest reasonable interpretation of which is any path.

Art Unit: 2176

Regarding claims 2, 3, 4, Heidorn et al. teaches the claimed invention of specifying predetermined sub-hierarchy as a path through the hierarchical tree (See col. 3, lines 49-col. 4, lines 18, Wherein Heidorn et al. teaches a leaf node and root node which is equivalent to claimed sub-hierarchy.

Regarding claim 7, Heidorn et al. teaches the claimed invention of a CPU and data store as described in col. 8, lines 1-5.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 1/24/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that cited prior art fails to teach applying rule to specified context as claimed. Examiner disagrees. Specifically, "context is defined by the path of nodes from the root of a parse tree down to a node of interest". The broadest reasonable interpretation is an entire path or any path. As cited, Heidorn teaches applying rule from intermediate level to root node, which is equivalent to claimed specified context.

Therefore applicant's arguments are not persuasive.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
